TERMINATED IN A FOUL

Corbett-Sharkey Mill Came to an Abrupt Conclusion.

HOT WORK UP TO THE NINTH,

When McVey's Bad Break Cost His Man the Fight.

SHARKEY GOT THE DECISION.

But the Referee Promptly Declared Off All Bets on the Match, He Deciding That McVey's Action Was Pre-arranged—Sharkey Did All the Leading.

New York, Nov. 23.—The 20-round glove fight between James J. Corbett of California, the ex-champion heavy-weight boxer of the world, and Tom Sharkey of Dundalk, Ireland, who first showed his prowess as a fighter while serving the United States as a blue jacket in the navy, drew an immense crowd of sporting men to the Lenox Athletic club house. Every seat was sold hours before the doors were opened.

Just before the preliminary bouts began Kid McCoy entered the arena, disguised, but was soon detected and ejected by Manager O'Rourke, as the consequence of their bitter feud.

Two bouts between locally celebrated pugilists preceded the big fight, and what the scrappers lacked in science they made up in vigor.

Tom Sharkey was the first to enter the ring. He bowed acknowledgement to the ovation tendered him by the vast throng. Honest John Kelly, the club referee, was also warmly greeted by the crowd. Both were followed later by Corbett, and again the crowd went wild. Both men seemed to be in the pink of condition. The referee introduced the principals, who shook hands, and after cautioning them as to the rules, the men stepped aside and the fight was on.

First round—The men fiddled for several seconds, and Jim made a left lead for the head. Tom responded with left and right in the same spot. Corbett led again. Tom responded with a left swing for the head, which landed. Sharkey ripped in lefts and rights for the body with some effect. He kept forcing Jim into the various corners, punching with right and left on the body, which seemed to be his objective point. Jim feinted and tried to draw his man on. Sharkey was always ready with his left jab and right swing, which invariably landed on the body. Corbett failed to show any of the great cleverness with which he has been credited. The round ended with Sharkey at his man.

Second—Corbett with the left lightly landed. Then there was an exchange with lefts and rights on the head, in which Sharkey showed to advantage. Jim kept trying to push his left into Tom's face, and the sailor would come right back with a swing for the body. He was inclined to be a trifle wild and was frequently cautioned by O'Rourke his chief second. Tom put over a straight on Jim's nose, which seemed to bring the blood to that member. Sharkey put in a right smash on the jaw which sent Corbett down. He attempted to repeat the dose, but was felled, as Jim clinched. The round closed with Tom all over his man.

Third—Corbett led with his right for the body, landing. Sharkey responded in kind. Jim reached the body several times, but Tom came right back with lefts for the head. A right on the body staggered Jim. Sharkey whipped over a tremendous right-hand smash on the jaw. The sailor's leads were ineffective, his counters being the blows which cut the figure. Corbett kept jabbing lightly for the head, and Sharkey came right back at him with right smashes on the wind.

Fourth—The sailor was right after his man and essayed lefts and rights for the head, landing each time. Corbett clinched and acted entirely on the defensive. Corbett led left for the head, landing on the neck, and Sharkey sent back a hard right on the body. Corbett began to do some punching and jabbed his man at will, but at long range, but Tom always had a counter ready. Corbett repeatedly led his left and damaged Sharkey's face considerably. The sailor chased his opponent into the latter's corner and received a series of jabs for his action.

Fifth—Corbett started right off with a left jab on the face and was apparently attempting to fool with his man. Sharkey, however, was not in a playful mood, and brought his right hand over with force enough to make Jim wince. Jim hooked his left rather low on Tom's body and lifted Sharkey off his feet with his shoulder. Corbett appeared to be a trifle weary and his blows lacked steam, whereas there was a world of force behind Sharkey's punches.

Sixth—Corbett led for the head with his left, landing, but Sharkey was right after him like a whirlwind. Tom started in to mix it up, and whipped in some corks in the body. Corbett retaliated with like light jabs on the face and fairly forceful blows on the body. Midway through the round there was a rattling wake, both exchanging lefts and rights on the head and body, with the sailor having a shade the better of it. There were cries of "foul," "foul," when Corbett hit his man on a breakaway which the referee had not called. The men were clinched at the bell after participating in a very fast mix-up.

Seventh—Sharkey ran across the ring and planted left and right on the head, Corbett clinching. Corbett acted on the defensive and seemed unable to withstand Sharkey's rushes. The latter whipped in a beautiful left hook on the wind and followed it up with a right on the jaw. The sailor kept doing all the work and was ready to mix it up on the slightest provocation. He alternately threw over left and right on head and body, occasionally changing to left hooks on the wind, which were slowly but surely attending to Corbett's case.

Eighth—Sharkey was first to lead, landing a left chop on the neck. They clinched frequently and the referee was kept busy separating them. Tom tried a left chop blow which fell short and Jim jabbed his left hard on the nose. Sharkey sent a right straight to the face which made Jim's head rock, but Jim was ready with a left hook which grazed Sharkey's ear. Both men fought fast, clinching repeatedly. Jim hooked his right hard on Tom's jaw, half dazing him. He quickly recuperated and went back at his man, hammer and tongs.

Ninth—Corbett landed with his left. Tom went right back at the same moment. Clinches were frequent and the men refused to break together. Corbett struck Tom rather low on the body and the sailor appealed to the referee. Corbett shoved Tom from him and said: "Oh, you go away." The men were in the center of the ring mixing it up in the liveliest manner. O'Rourke calling to Tom not to mind Corbett's low hitting. Just at this moment for some unaccountable reason, McVey, one of Corbett's seconds, jumped through the ropes, protesting that Sharkey had done something wrong to Corbett. The moment McVey climbed through the ropes, Police Inspector McLaughlin grabbed hold of him, while the crowd frantically yelled "Foul, foul, Corbett loses. Look at his second in the ring." Referee Kelley seemed to pay no attention to the matter, but kept looking at the fighters, who continued their aggressive work. McVey tried to pull away from the lasso, while the spectators kept yelling at the referee, who finally separated the fighters and ordered them to their corners. Corbett seemed not to understand why the referee should interfere and protested, but Kelley was obdurate and stopped the bout. Meanwhile the spectators stood up and yelled that bets should be declared off, as they believed McVey committed the breach of ring rules premeditatedly. It looked for a while as if a riot would ensue, but as soon as the referee declared Sharkey the winner on the technicality he also announced all bets were off, as McVey's action was undoubtedly pre-arranged.

Spain Shy on Ships.

Madrid, Nov. 23.—The ministers at the cabinet council considered a request of the Red Cross society which asked the government to place a steamer carrying a neutral flag at the disposal of the society for the purpose of sending her to the Philippine Islands, in order to obtain the liberation of the Spanish prisoners there. The proposal was warmly welcomed by the ministers, but they were unable to accede to the society's request, owing to the fact that the Spanish steamers are all wanted for the repatriation of troops in Cuba.

Steamer Disabled.

Hallfax, N. S., Nov. 23.—The steamer Katabalu, from the lakes for Philadelphia with three barges in tow, has arrived here with machinery disabled. She will repair and proceed.

TEDDY ON THE STAND.

Rough Rider Roosevelt's Santiago Experience

TOLD TO WAR COMMISSION

In a Blunt and Interesting Manner and Without a Single Wobble.

HIS MEN LACKED GOOD FOOD.

How the Colonel on Several Occasions Took the Law into His Own Hands and the White Lies He Told to Relieve the Distress of His Noble Band.

New York, Nov. 23.—Colonel Roosevelt took the stand and testified before the war investigating commission, and in reply to a request from General Wilson told of the equipment and mustering in of the First volunteer cavalry, known as the Rough Riders.

"When we reached Tampa," Colonel Roosevelt said, "there was a condition of utter confusion. We were dumped outside, a mile away from our camp. No one knew where the camp was. There was no one to tell us where to go or what to do. After waiting 24 hours I took the law into my own hands and bought food for the men and horses. Later when we found our camp, we were all right."

Colonel Roosevelt said a great condition of confusion existed at Tampa. Nobody seemed to know anything and no arrangements were evident as to what transports were to be used. His own regiment was assigned to the Yucatan. Incidentally he heard that the Second Infantry and Seventy-first New York volunteers were also assigned to the Yucatan. As soon as he heard that he hurried on the Rough Riders and took possession of the ship and held it against other regiments. His men had decided to get to Cuba and they got there.

Colonel Roosevelt said the food was ample and with the exception of the canned roast beef, good. The beef was very bad. Colonel Roosevelt told of the voyage to Cuba and to the disembarkation of the regiment at Balquid. The regiment was one of the first to land. Captain Shaw, who was associated with Colonel Roosevelt in the navy department, sent a Cuban pilot on board the Yucatan and he took the transport a mile and a half nearer shore than any of the other transports. There was a great scarcity of material for landing men, horses and supplies.

"The next morning's march was a hard one, especially for the men. There were no opportunities for flankers. It was so hot that about 100 men dropped out for a rest, and when the first Spanish outpost was discovered General Wood ordered silence and I was sent to the right to deploy with the right wing."

"When the Spaniards began firing I did not know what was up. It was my first experience. They were using smokeless powder and I could not see where they were. When I located the Spaniards with my glasses I did not know what to do, but I knew it was a good rule if in doubt to go ahead, and so went ahead."

Asked about the rations he said: "We had the regulation rations of salt pork, hard tack, coffee and sugar, but the men wanted vegetables and I wanted to get some for them. I took 40 men with the officers' horses to Siboney and tried to buy them. The department refused to sell me beans and tomatoes unless I could certify that they were for officers' consumption. I stretched my conscience as far as I could, and then boarded a transport and purchased about 500 pounds of beans. The change did the men good. It was too hot to eat nothing but the regular rations."

Colonel Roosevelt went on to tell of the advance on Santiago and of the night of July 1, when the regiment slept in the trenches. He spoke of the advantages of the smokeless powder and said that the United States artillery was frequently driven from its positions because of the targets made by the clouds of smoke that resulted from each discharge of the black powder.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Complete returns have been received of the casualties of the Santiago campaign. The adjutant general's office has divided the campaign into different dates and periods. The statement shows: La Guasima, June 24—Killed, one officer and 15 men; wounded, six officers and 44 men. San Juan, July 1 to 3.—Killed, 17 officers and 134 men; wounded, 69 officers and 938 men. El Caney, July 1—Killed, four officers and 84 men; wounded, 24 officers and 332 men. Aguadores, July 1 and 2.—Wounded, two officers and 10 men. Fennessees Not a Coward.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The court of inquiry has entirely exonerated Lieutenant J. C. Fennessees, quartermaster of the Ninth Massachusetts of charges brought against him by officers of that regiment, but that four of these officers are subjects for military discipline. He was charged with cowardice and with failing in his duty as quartermaster.

Rear Admiral Miller Retired.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Rear Admiral Joseph N. Miller, recently detached from command of the Pacific station, was placed on the retired list on account of age. The vacancy thus created in the highest grade of the navy will be filled by the promotion of Commodore H. L. Howison, now commanding the Boston navy yard. Captain H. F. Picklag will be advanced to the grade of commodore and other promotions will be made all along the line.

McKinley Decides a Dispute.

Washington, Nov. 23.—For some time past there have been signs of a disagreement between the army and navy over the possession of the Spanish ordnance which was surrendered in various places in Cuba and Porto Rico. The navy has claimed that where its ships fired upon and silenced fortifications the guns by right fell to its share, but the military authorities being in possession and having received the surrender of these places have asserted their right. The president has finally decided to divide this captured ordnance fairly between the two branches.

Admiral Dewey to Move Up.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The naval orders contained an announcement of the retirement of Rear Admiral Francis M. Bunce on the 25th proximo. Admiral Bunce is commandant of the New York navy yard, generally regarded as the most important shore command in the navy. Rear Admiral George Dewey will be the ranking admiral in the navy upon the retirement of Admiral Bunce next month.

The Descent of Teresa.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 23.—The court of inquiry appointed by the secretary of the navy to ascertain why the Spanish cruiser Maria Teresa was abandoned and to fix the responsibility, began its labors here. Several of the crew of the tug of the Merritt Wrecking company and the Leonidas were heard, but members of the court would not give out anything for publication.

Advised the President.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Among the callers at the White House were Mr. Andrew Carnegie and Mr. Samuel Gompers, the head of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Carnegie, in an interview, expressed himself as strongly opposed to the policy of territorial expansion. Mr. Gompers called to arrange for a conference at which he will urge the president to incorporate in his message to congress recommendations relating to the eight hour law and other matters of special interest to working men.

What the Indians Want.

Washington, Nov. 23.—A delegation of White River Ute Indians had a hearing before the secretary of the Interior, at which they voiced their grievances. They submitted the matter of the lease of a large stretch of the Gila lands in the reservation to the Raven Mining company, and asked that the lease be approved by the secretary.

Weather Service in the Antilles.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The doings of the weather bureau during the past fiscal year are set forth in some detail in a report submitted by Chief Willis L. Moore to Secretary Wilson. The most prominent event chronicled in Mr. Moore's report is the extension of the bureau's field of operations to include all of the West Indies and the shores of the Gulf of Mexico.

Singular and Fatal Mishap.

HE LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

Confession of Bank Wrecker Cross, the Suicide.

IT CAUSES A BIG SENSATION.

For Years He Had Carefully Deceived and Systematically Defrauded His Business Associates and Nearest Friends.

Emporia, Kan., Nov. 23.—Since the sensational failure of the First National bank, which was followed by the suicide of Charles S. Cross, president of the bank and owner of the celebrated Sunnyside stock farm, there have been rumors of a written confession left behind by the suicide.

This letter has been made public by William Martindale, vice president of the bank, and has caused a sensation, for it is an acknowledgment by the suicide that he had systematically deceived and defrauded not only the patrons of his bank, but his business associates. The letter follows. It is dated Emporia, May 12:

"I desire to state that the misfortunes of myself and the bank have been caused through my faults and errors. I inherited a large debt, which I endeavored to meet by going into other schemes, which have all been practical failures and only got me deeper into the mire. As to the bank matters, I desire to say that I have carefully laid plans to deceive both the board of directors, the cashier and employees. Mr. Martindale will now learn for the first time how I have carefully deceived him, principally by way of substituted paper, of which he has no knowledge.

"The reports and letters written the comptroller have been by me misrepresented to the board, they having signed on the last page and I having sent other letters than the ones read to them, changing every one but the last sheet. I have had a hard luck story most of my lifetime, the only pleasant feature being that of my present wife, who is a good and true woman. Mr. Davis, our cashier, has never made an improper entry on the books and knows nothing of this whole miserable business. Death I do not fear; it is preferable to the agony of the past year. I know of nothing further to add except as to Mr. Martindale. This is a terrible thing for him. He has trusted me without reserve. I have given him a bill of sale of all my personal property."

Porto Rican Embezzlers.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Nov. 23.—Jose Hernandez, an engineer; Martin Riviera, a foreman, and Francisco Noa, a cashier in the department of harbor works, have been arrested charged with misappropriating funds. Upon information furnished a detective learned that the department carried dummies on its payrolls and charged expenses in connection with a dredge which has long been out of commission. The abuses prevailed under the Spanish regime, and have been continued under American rule.

An Ohio Town Will Get It.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 23.—At the business session of the National Grange, S. H. Messick of Delaware was elected a member of the executive committee for three years. It was voted to hold the next annual meeting in Ohio, the city to be selected later. The statement of the finance committee showed that invested funds of the order now amount to $53,134. The expenditures for the year were $25,000.

Bering Sea Dispute.

Washington, Nov. 23.—At the afternoon session of the Bering sea committee, it was agreed that each side would place its appraisal on the stand, allowing him to be cross-examined by the other side as to justice of his appraisal of the sealing fleet. The examinations proceeded through the day, Senator Fairbanks cross-examining for the American side and Sir Louis Davis for the Canadians.

Mixed Up in Politics.

Newburgh, N. Y., Nov. 23.—The New York Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian church is in session here for the purpose of trying about a score of members who are alleged to have voted at the presidential election of 1896 in violation of the church law, which prohibits voting. The sessions were occupied with argument, sometimes heated, concerning the admission of the evidence.

Riotous Students.

Budapest, Nov. 23.—All lectures at the polytechnic have been suspended. Demonstrations occurred at the university where the students stoned the police. The latter fought their way into the courtyard and drove out the students. The students afterward assembled in the museum ring and sang the Kossuth hymn. After a fierce fight the students were again dispersed and many of them were arrested.

For Kentucky—Fair; continued cold; west winds.

THERE is a prospect now that some of the rottenness in Pennsylvania's Republican government in past years will be brought to light. The Wanamaker faction has secured indictments against U. S. Senator Quay and son, charging them with conspiring to use public funds unlawfully.

In the language of Rev. John Jasper, "The World Do Move!" During the latter part of Mr. Cleveland's first administration, says the Georgetown News-Democrat, Secretary Fairchild found himself with $60,000,000 useless money in the treasury and he deposited it throughout the country in certain banks which put up bonds as a collateral that it might find its way into the circulation of the country, and he was jumped right and left by the Republican press, and particularly by Ben Harrison, who denounced both Mr. Cleveland and his Secretary for "assisting pet banks." Now, behold what has taken place! In the annual report of the present United States Treasurer, Ellis H. Roberts, he calls attention to the fact that he has deposited $65,750,000 of unused treasury funds in banks in different parts of the country and calls upon the American people to take off their hats and cheer his action. Not only this; he says, "The result of these methods of dealing with the situation has been in all respects satisfactory." The Republican party wouldn't say this in Mr. Cleveland's time and yet the depositing of unused funds throughout the country during his administration was just as satisfactory as it is now. There is little decency in politics—no matter if the politician is a Ben Harrison, a Bill McKinley, or a common ward bummer.

THE REPUBLIC'S FALL

Predicted By Senator Hoar If We Annex the Philippines.

BOSTON, Nov. 21.—Senator Hoar was informed this afternoon of the news from Paris, and asked to comment upon it. He replied: "I do not think I care to comment upon the news at any length just at present. My opinion upon the Philippine question has been stated at length by me in my speech at Worcester during the last campaign.

"I stand on the doctrine of the last Republican State convention platform, and I stand upon the utterance of Senator Lodge in his Republican club speech."

"Do you favor giving the Philippines back to Spain?"

"I think we should set the people on their feet and let them govern themselves."

"My opinion is that if the United States acquire the Philippine Islands to govern them as a subject or vassal State, the destruction of the American republic will date from the administration of William McKinley."

DIPHTHERIA.

Some Suggestions as to Treating the Disease—Every Case Should be Isolated—Funerals Should be Private.

Cases of diphtheria have been reported in several localities of the county and in a number of instances the disease seems to have assumed a malignant form. The occurrence of a fatal result in two or three cases has made the antitoxine treatment a subject of general discussion. The best medical authorities insist that it is an almost infallible treatment if it be properly applied; but the indiscriminating use of antitoxine may result in more harm than good. In what is known as "associated diphtheria" it has no efficacy at all; in all cases of pure diphtheria it should be freely and boldly used as soon as the diagnosis is made.

But no good practitioner should rely upon this alone. Appropriate local and constitutional treatment should be adopted in every case; and the usual hygienic and sanitary precautions should be strictly enforced.

Medical statistics show that schools are the chief nurseries of the disease, and the "open funeral" practically gives the contagion wings. Every case of diphtheria should be promptly isolated; all visitors should be excluded; rigid antiseptics should be practiced; all funerals should be private, and every child with a sore throat should be kept from school.

Recent experiments at Bordeaux prove beyond all question that even fowls are affected with diphtheria, and the practice of isolation is as strictly enjoined here as in any other manifestation of the disease.

There is a good stage of water in the Kanawha. Over 9 feet at Charleston.

The Keystone State went into Pittsburgh this week with the banner trip of the season. She will pass down to-night.

The river continues at a fine stage at Pittsburgh. The John Moren and J. C. Risher left there Monday with shipments of coal.

The Pittsburgh Post of the 19th says: "The Monongahela wharf was piled with Thanksgiving produce yesterday. Every arrival from the Ohio river came in loaded down with turkeys, chickens, ducks and a few geese. The Lorena brought the biggest load. The little Zanesville boat was literally alive with poultry, and her landing at the wharf was followed by a great cackling, gobbling and quacking. She had 200 coops of poultry, about 1,500 rabbits and 100 cases of eggs. The Greenwood carried 100 coops and 100 cases of eggs. The Will J. Cummins had 145 coops, 150 cases of eggs and 200 barrels of apples."

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c. a bottle at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store.

HECHINGER'S

The crowds of buyers increase daily, and is the best possible proof of every statement made and the genuineness of every garment offered. There is not another Clothing store in Kentucky to-day that enjoys the confidence of the public to the high degree ours does. We briefly call your attention to a few of the many good things we want you to partake of: single and double-breasted. They range in price from $7.50 to $15.00; the latter price buys a Suit equal, if not superior, to the average custom tailor's output.

Great Line of Cheviot and Serge Suits,

In Overcoats We Have Reached the Top Notch.

Our Covert Overcoats, in the newest shades, are sold by us (exclusively) at $8.50 to $15; the latter price secures a garment that in every respect will be found equal to Coats that sell elsewhere at $20 to $25.

THE Cincinnati Post says that West Virginia coal operators are rallying to the support of C. G. Blake, the Cincinnati coal dealer, who made charges with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the C. and O. road. They will endeavor to prove that men who have invested their fortune in the mining business have been ruined by reason of rate discriminations in favor of the O. and O. road. They will introduce testimony showing that by cutting off the supply of coal, the C. and O. has caused the closing down of extensive mines, throwing thousands of miners out of employment. United States Senator Foraker has been engaged by the anti-Ingalls element. The case is set for the 28th.

HEALTHY, happy children make better men and women of us all. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after. On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children. A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children. Most of the weakness of women is utterly incurable. Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice. It is healing, soothing, strengthening. It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made mothers of strong and healthy children. Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 100¢ page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—One of the hold-up robberies committed here in years was perpetrated when the postoffice was robbed of 11 packages containing $100 each, or $1,100 in all.

The money was in a pigeon hole at a stamp window presided over by Miss Mary Berry. She left the window for a few seconds and during that brief time the money was taken.

To Buy Out Fleet.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Bering sea question was the main topic before the Anglo-American commission when it resumed its session after several days' recess. For the first time the two sides were prepared to exchange their estimates on the value of the Canadian seal fleet, the purpose being to arrive at some fair valuation and retire the fleet by a purchase. The initial steps in this direction were taken while the commission was at Quebec, since which time Captains H. T. Taylor, in behalf of the Canadians, and Thayer, in behalf of the Americans, have been making appraisals of the fleet.

Real Object of the Revolt.

New York, Nov. 23.—A special from Panama says late advices from Salvador via Nicaragua, indicate that the revolt is more serious than at first thought. It may involve all five states in general turmoil. According to advices the real object of the movement is the overthrow of the federal republic, which was organized Nov. 1 at Amapala. To accomplish this Regalado called in the aid of Guatemala and Costa Rica, who always viewed the union of Salvador, Nicaragua and Honduras as a constant menace to their sovereignty.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. ELZA CLIFT.

Died, at her home near Lewisburg, Ky., Mrs. Judy Clift, wife of Elza Clift, November 17th, 1898. Death comes alike to all, to young and old, to rich and poor, to high and low; we that stand upon this side of the shore, when we behold lives that are filled with usefulness taken away with but few years of earnest toil and patient continuance in well doing by faithfully adhering to the call of duty, that all that come within their midst may be benefited, wonder that the years are so few, but the Dea Angel knows for whom the Master has need; he gathers into the garner where he will and whatever is right. Hers was a sunny disposition; being blessed with a bright and cheerful temperament she was enabled to cast joy into the lives of others. And of a kind and loving nature she won many friends. She was among those in her church that are willing and ready to do what they can that good may come, knowing that the reaping must needs follow the sowing. Her mingled with industry and thoughtfulness, made of her home a happy place. Not only will she be missed among the inmates but the friends as well who have enjoyed her hospitality and been made to know that they were welcome.

She was buried in the Mayslick cemetery where she buried her father and mother of whom it was such a delight for her to talk, and of whom she seemed to have treasured so much of precept and example. There were no services except prayer at the grave by Rev. Hugh F. Searey of the Baptist Church. But while she has gone and been laid to rest she will live within the hearts of many with whom she had to do, and may the light and love of him in whom she trusted dispel the darkness and gloom of those to whom she was nearest, for

"Be still and all is calm again."
And while we would delight to honor a life so well spent, by meditating upon the beautiful traits of character which she possessed, we are made the better ourselves, and as flowers shed their perfume upon all around so the sweetness of her life has left its fragrance, and we trust that from this alliteration good may come to the souls of many, both here and hereafter.
